

Empower Your Students with Economic & Financial Literacy

Workshops and Resources from the San Diego Center for Economic Education

Why SDCEE?

The San Diego Center for Economic Education (SDCEE) is a trusted nonprofit promoting economic and financial literacy in K-12 classrooms. Economists often say there's no such thing as a free lunch, but thanks to our generous donors and partners, all our workshops and resources are available at no charge to help teachers integrate financial literacy into their curriculum.

What We Offer:

Virtual & In-Person Workshops: Our workshops are designed to equip you with the tools and knowledge to teach economics and personal finance in your classroom. Sessions are interactive, engaging, and available at no charge.

Comprehensive Classroom Resources: Access a wide range of teaching materials, including lesson plans, activities, and resources that cover topics like budgeting, investing, economic decision-making, and more.

Why Choose SDCEE?

Build Financial Literacy Skills: Give your students the essential skills they need to succeed in life—critical thinking, budgeting, saving, and understanding economic systems.

No Charge to You: All our workshops and resources are available at no charge, making it easier than ever to integrate financial literacy into your teaching, with no hidden fees or costs.

Trusted, High-Quality Resources: We collaborate with organizations like Federal Reserve Education, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), the Council for Economic Education (CEE), and other respected institutions to provide top-notch educational materials and training.

Want to Learn More?

Sign up to be on our distribution list and get notified about upcoming sessions at no charge! Click or Scan Here to Sign Up:

